

BANDITS KICKED DOWN STAIRS BY INTENDED VICTIMS

Armed Men Attempting Hold-Up of Union Meeting Thrown Out of Hall.

When Joe Anderson of No. 405 West 25th Street was arraigned to-day in Jefferson Market Court on a charge of attempted robbery, the court was informed that he had been identified as the leader of three men who last night tried to hold up a meeting of a painters' union in a building at 11th Avenue and 25th Street. His clothing was torn and his face and body showed the effects of a severe man-handling.

According to Samuel Meyerowitz, No. 688 Courtland Avenue, the Bronx, an official of the union, the meeting was called principally for the collection of monthly dues. A large number of men had paid their dues and after the meeting were standing around talking when the door swung open and three men walked in, one pointing a revolver at the treasurer.

"Hands up!" the three ordered. Many of the men obeyed, but one husky, whose name Meyerowitz did not recall, walked up to the leader and grasping him by the nape of the neck and the seat of the trousers hurled him headlong down a flight of stairs. The leader picked himself up, tucked his revolver into his hip pocket and, cursing, ran away.

The fallen leader's two companions made a rush for the stairway, but each one was intercepted long enough to allow the painters' heavier footed membership to get into action and kick the routed robbers downstairs. Meyerowitz then notified the police of the West 26th Street Station, and on his description that the armed leader was now "badly mugged up," the police arrested Anderson. In his hip pocket, they said, they found a revolver. They hesitated to place him before the court for identification, and so called Meyerowitz to the police station, where he looked the prisoner over and said "Yep, that's him."

Anderson, the police said, has been arrested several times on robbery charges.

VICTIM BATTLES WITH HOLD-UP MAN

Punches Bandit on Jaw After Raid on Card Game and Fights On Despite Shots.

Three gunmen broke into the apartment of Petro Sangallo, on the third floor of No. 236 East 78th Street, early to-day, where he and four friends were playing cards, lined the players against the wall, hands in air, and robbed them of their watches and jewelry.

The last man to be searched was Riccardo Alfaro, a cigar-maker, of No. 116 Lexington Avenue. He wheeled suddenly and struck one of the hold-up men in the jaw. Then they clinched and went to the floor. The two other gunmen prevented any interference with the fight and Alfaro and his adversary crashed about the room.

The gunman wrenched free and fired two shots at Alfaro, one scorching his scalp, the other penetrating his hand. The shots aroused the house and the gunmen fled and escaped in an automobile. Alfaro was not seriously wounded.

Joseph Nolan, No. 401 West 54th Street, a chauffeur who figured in one of yesterday's half dozen robberies, was held in $50,000 bail to-day by Magistrate Levine in Yorkville Court. He was captured by Patrolman William J. Wind of the East 65th Street Station after an automobile chase in which many shots were fired. Robbers who held up Paul Masecek, No. 251 East 74th Street, taking about $500, used Nolan's car for their escape.

The Arch Support Shoe—
A COWARD ORIGATION.

The Coward Arch Support Shoe is an origination, conceived and developed many years ago by James S. Coward. Because of its great merit this shoe has been widely imitated but with only indifferent success.

We appreciate, of course, the flattery of imitation but, after all, imitations can never be anything else, and in arch support shoes Coward is the original.
